3. A person acting in a Contracting State on behalf of an enterprise of the other Contracting State other than an agent of an independent status to whom paragraph 5 applies--shall be deemed to be a permanent establishment in the first-mentioned State if he has and habitually exercises in that State, an authority to conclude contracts in the name of the enterprise, unless his activities are limited to the purchase of goods or merchandise for the enterprise.
4. An enterprise of a Contracting State shall not be deemed to have a permanent establishment in the other Contracting State merely because it carries on business in that other State through a broker, general commission agent or any other agent of an independent status, where such persons are acting independently in the ordinary course of their business.
5. The fact that a company which is a resident of a Contracting State controls or is controlled by a company which is a resident of the other Contracting State, or which carries on business in that other State (whether through a permanent establishment or otherwise) shall not itself constitute for either company a permanent establishment of the other.

CHAPTER III

TAXATION OF INCOME

ARTICLE V

Income from Immovable Property

1. Income from immovable property may be taxed in the Contracting State in which such property is situated.
2. The term " immovable property " shall be defined in accordance with the law of the Contracting State in which the property in question is situated.

ARTICLE VI

Business Profits

1. The profits of an enterprise of a Contracting State shall be taxable in the State where the enterprise is situated and also in the State where it has a permanent establishment, in which case, the tax shall be limited to the profits attributable to the permanent establishment.
2. Where an enterprise of a Contracting State carries on business in the other Contracting State through a permanent establishment situated therein, there shall in each Contracting State be attributed to the permanent establishment the profits which it might be expected to make if it were a distinct and separate enterprise engaged in the same or similar activities under the same or similar condition and dealing wholly independently with the enterprise of which it is a permanent establishment.
3. In the determination of the profits of a permanent establishment, there shall be allowed as deduction expenses which are incurred for the purpose of the permanent establishment whether such expenses have been incurred in the State in which the permanent establishment is situated or elsewhere in accordance with regulations of the State in which the income is taxable.
4. No profits shall be attributed to a permanent establishment by reason of the mere purchase by that permanent establishment of goods or merchandise for the enterprise.
5. For the purpose of the preceding paragraphs, the profits to be attributed to the permanent establishment shall be determined by the same method year by year unless there is good and sufficient reason to the contrary.
6. Where profits include items of income which are dealt with separately in other Articles of this Convention, then the provisions of those Articles shall not be affected by the provisions of this Article.

ARTICLE VII

1. Payments which a student or business apprentice who is or was formerly a resident of a Contracting State and who is present in the other Contracting State solely for the purpose of his education or training receives for the purpose of his maintenance, education or training shall not be taxed in that other State, provided that such payments are made to him from sources outside that other State.
2. The provision of this Article shall also apply to the income which the student or business apprentice may derive from an employment in the other Contracting State; provided that such employment is related to his study or training and/ or that the income deriving therefrom is required by the student or trainee to meet his living expenses.

ARTICLE XIX

Professors, Teachers and Researchers

A professor, teacher or research worker from one of the Contracting States who receives remuneration for teaching or carrying out research work during a period of temporary residence not exceeding three months at a university, college or/other institute of higher education or scientific research in the other Contracting State shall be exempt from tax in that other State, in respect of that remuneration, provided that the period of three months may be extended by similar periods.

CHAPTER IV

ELIMINATION OF DOUBLE TAXATION

ARTICLE XX

Tax Credits

1. When a resident of a Contracting State derives income which has also suffered tax in the other Contracting State, the first-mentioned State shall allow a deduction from its tax on the income of that person equal to the tax in the other Contracting State; provided that the deduction shall not exceed that part of the tax, as computed before the deduction is given which is applicable to the income taxed in the other Contracting State.
2. Nothing in this Article contained shall prevent the granting of such further relief as may be appropriate under the provisions of the law of either Contracting State in respect of any amount by which the tax in case of the States exceeds the credit allowed on its account in the other State in accordance with the provisions of this Article.

CHAPTER V

SPECIAL PROVISIONS

ARTICLE XXI

Non-Discrimination

1. The nationals of a Contracting State shall not be subjected in the other Contracting State to any taxation or any requirement connected therewith which is other or more burdensome than the taxation and connected requirements to which nationals of that other State in the same circumstances are or may be subjected.
2. The term " national " means:
 - a. all individuals possessing the nationality of a Contracting State;
 - b. all legal persons, partnerships and associations deriving their status as such from the law in force in a Contracting State.

3. The taxation of a permanent establishment which an enterprise of a Contracting State has in the other Contracting State shall not be less favourably levied in that other State than the taxation levied on enterprises of that other State carrying on the same activities. The provision shall not be construed as obliging a Contracting State to grant to residents of the other Contracting State any personal allowances, reliefs and reductions for taxation purposes on account of civil status or family responsibilities which it grants to its own residents.
4. Enterprises of a Contracting State, the capital of which is wholly or partly owned or controlled directly or indirectly, by one or more residents of the other Contracting State, shall not be subjected in the first-mentioned Contracting State to any taxation or any requirements connected therewith which is other or more burdensome than the taxation and connected requirements to which other similar enterprises of that first mentioned State are or may be subjected.

ARTICLE XXII

Mutual Agreement Procedure

1. Were a resident of a Contracting State considers that the actions of one or both of the Contracting State result or will result for him in taxation not in accordance with this Convention he may, notwithstanding the remedies provided by the national laws of those States, present his case to the competent authority of the Contracting State of which he is a resident.
2. The competent authority shall endeavour, if the objection appears to it to be justified and if it is not itself able to arrive at an appropriate solution, to resolve the case by mutual agreement with the competent authority of the other Contracting State, with a view to the avoidance of taxation not in accordance with the Convention.
3. The competent authorities of the Contracting States shall endeavour to resolve by mutual agreement any difficulties or doubts arising as to the interpretation or application of the Convention. They may also consult together for the elimination of double taxation in cases not provided for in the Convention.
4. The competent authorities of the Contracting States may communicate with each other directly for the purpose of reaching an agreement in the sense of the preceding paragraphs. When it seems advisable in order to reach agreement to have an oral exchange of opinions, such exchange may take place through a Commission consisting of representatives of the competent authorities of the Contracting States.

ARTICLE XXIII

Exchange of Information

1. The competent authorities of the Contracting States shall exchange such information as is necessary for the carrying out of this Convention and of the domestic laws of the Contracting States concerning taxes covered by this Convention in so far as the taxation thereunder is in accordance with this Convention. Information shall also be exchanged as is necessary for the prevention of fiscal evasion of taxes which are the subject of this Convention. Any information so exchanged shall be treated as secret and shall not be disclosed to any persons or authorities other than those concerned with the assessment of collection of the taxes which are the subject of the Convention.
2. In no case shall the provisions of paragraph 1 be constituted so as to impose on one of the Contracting States the obligation:
 - a. to carry out administrative measures at variance with the laws or the administrative practice of that or of the other Contracting State;
 - b. to supply particulars which are not obtainable under the laws or in the normal course of the administration of that or of the other Contracting State;
 - c. to supply information which would disclose any trade, business, industrial commercial or professional secret or trade process, or information, the disclosure of which would be contrary to public policy.

ARTICLE XXIV

Diplomatic and Consular Officials

Nothing in this Convention shall affect the fiscal privileges of diplomatic or consular officials under the general rules of international law or under the provisions of special agreements.

CHAPTER VI

FINAL PROVISIONS

ARTICLE XXV

Entry into Force

The Convention shall enter into force upon the exchange of instruments of ratification and its provisions shall have effect from the tax year commencing after the said ratification.

Any agreement reached shall be implemented notwithstanding any time limits in the national laws of the Contracting State.

ARTICLE XXVI

Termination

This Convention remains in force until denounced by one, of the Contracting States. Either Contracting State may denounce the Convention through diplomatic channels by giving notice of termination at least 6 months before the end of any calendar year beginning 5 years after the agreement enters into force. In such event the Convention shall cease to have effect after the end of the calendar year during which notice of the denouncing of the Convention is given by one Contracting State to the other.

In witness of the agreement reached as above, the signatories have today signed this Convention in virtue of the authority delegated to them for this purpose by their respective Governments.
